DISCOUNT CARDS

Discount card programs are independent organizations that have negotiated volume discounts for prescription medications. Most cover all drugs, but have relationships with particular pharmacies. Discounts vary by card, so please read through each programs material carefully to determine if a discount would be beneficial to you. The Partnership for Prescription Assistance (PPA) does not influence or control these independent organizations. The PPA cannot guarantee prescription discounts from any of these organizations; they are listed here only as additional resources for patients in need.
